

Phd in Institutions, Administration and Policies of Italian Regions

Candidate: Serena Sgrò

Phd series: XXIII

Supervisor: Prof. Jacques Ziller

Tutor of Regione Lombardia: Dott. Fabrizio Cristalli (DG Protezione civile, Polizia Locale e interventi integrati)

Research Title

Regional competence about local police and urban security.

A comparative case about german police: Rheinland – Pfalz-police system.

Research Issue

Research activity is devoted to an analysis of local police and urban security policies as exclusive competence of Italian Regions

Analysis follows three focus -lines:

1. urban security item and the relations between urban security policies und public security policies as exclusive competence of the national State.
2. Local police as new legislative competence of the Regions. Regional law of Lombardy about urban security system. Current context, role and perspectives of local police
3. Coordination Law about Security and local police policies.

A part of research is devoted to an analysis of german police (in particular Rheinland – Pfalz police system) as comparative case.

Focus – lines move from constitutional reform 2001, which introduces a new competence division between State and Regions and gives to Regions new competences more.